It is seen from the Advertisement proposed by the University & approved by Govt that applications were "invited for the post of Professor of Sanskrit on a salary of 400-25-700", and it was added "the appointment will be for two years in the first instance subject to confirmation".

The recommendation now sent is that Mr. C.R. Narasimha Sastri be appointed Prof. of Sanskrit "on Rs 400 p.m. on probation for 2 years" from 24.6.36. What the pay should be after 2 years (i.e. whether the grade 400-25-700 is intended) is not mentioned. Perhaps the question is open for decision then.

UNIVERSITY OF MYSORE

Report of the Committee appointed to recommend the best qualified candidate among the applicants for the post of Professor of Sanskrit.

1. We beg to report that 52 candidates applied for the post. A summary statement of the qualifications of the candidates was circulated to us in advance of the meeting held on the 19th instant. We also went individually through the file of applications in detail, and on comparing the lists we made separately of candidates whose claims required discussion, we found that four names (of candidates Nos.11, 24, 43 and 50) were common to all the lists. To these four we added the names of candidates Nos.15,39 and 44 as one or other of us wanted to examine further the claims of one or more of these.

2. After discussion, we eliminated from the list all but three, Nos.11,43 and 50. It was suggested that these might be sent for for being interviewed. Two of the candidates, Nos.43 and 50, who happened to be available immediately were sent for and interviewed. Though No.50 impressed all of us by the fact that he had a working knowledge of French and German and Pali, and also by his possession of a modern outlook in Sanskrit scholarship, we felt that his lack of teaching experience in a University constituted a serious handicap. We feel, on the other hand, that the Sanskrit scholarship of No.43 is both sound and of wider range. It should be added also that he has been handling Sanskrit classes of the highest standard in most of the subjects in the Department. As regards No.11, though we all felt that on paper he had the best, or nearly the best, qualifications, two of our number, who knew him in person or by his writings, were of opinion that his qualifications were not so outstanding as to out weigh the claims of No.43, so that it became unnecessary to call him for an interview.

3. Therefore we are unanimously of opinion that No.43 is, in the circumstances, best qualified for the post among the applicants. Mr. Rollo was not present at the meeting, but having had an opportunity of studying the file of applications, at an earlier date, he left a note of his views of the relative claims of the candidates, from which we see that he is also of opinion that No.43 is best qualified for the post among the applicants.

4. Finally, we recommend unanimously that No.43 Mr. C.R.Narasimha Sastri, be appointed Professor of Sanskrit
